Logistics and Supply Chain Management connect. On 10th April 2014 companies from the industrial, trading and logistics services sectors are going to take interested visitors behind the scenes – free of charge. The participants will be able to gain an insight into the wide variety of logistics and supply chain management activities performed every day. Institutes open their doors and showcase their logistics and supply chain management projects. Educational and training centres will present their seminars and courses in the field of logistics and supply chain management.
